

Glossary

Computer
(For Class 4)

My Book of Computer 4

Lesson 1

attempt: to make an effort mathematician: a person who is an expert of mathematics considered: to think carefully about conceptual: the ability to think creatively analyze and understand complicated things outlined: a style of drawing in which only the outer edges of an object are shown mechanical: operated or work by machinery analytical: someone who studies and examines the elemental parts of something engine: a machine that converts energy into power to produce force and motion unable: not able to do something fascinated: to attract someone by a unique power or some other special quality punched: a device used for making holes or stamping purpose: reason company: any organization where people use to work and receive payments eventually: in the end, finally or at last forefather: a man who goes back on your family tree several generations awarded: to give a prize to someone reprogrammable: a program can be replaced with another laboratories: a room or building in which scientific experiments and tests are done invention: anything which is made or originated after study and experiment employed: give work to someone and pay some money them for it distinction: a difference between similar things or people microprocessor

Lesson 2

rich: anyone having high value, quality and money spans: the distance between the tip of the thumb and the tip of the little finger when the hand is fully extended ceaseless: without stop or pause quest: search for something immensely: very, hugely or great extremely segments: parts or divisions malfunction: fail to function properly generation: a group of people who were born and lived or are living around the same time represents: to act, to serve or to express occurred: to happened or take place vacuum: an area where there is no matter and no air consumed: to use or to destroy fragile: anything that is easily broken or damaged unreliability: not able to be trusted or believed assembly: a group of people gathered together in one place commercial: something related to doing business or for business purposes delivered: bring and hand over to the proper recipient or address client: a person using the services of a lawyer or other professional person era: a period of time superior: higher in rank, status, or quality cheap: anything which is of very low quality or having less price massively: anything large in scale, amount, or degree manifold: having different parts or forms despite: without being affected by anything advantages: profits susceptible: anything which is easily affected by something fluctuation: to change continually or irregularly voltage: the amount of potential energy between two points on a circuit agencies: an organization, or company that provides some service for another integrated: to give equal opportunity delicate: anything easily broken or damaged damaged: destroyed moisture: a small amount of wetness water or other liquid static: showing little or no change: not in move eliminated: completely remove estimated: to calculate roughly artificial: anything not natural or real assistants: a person who helps in particular work fabrication: the action or process of inventing something verbally: anything expressed in words, whether spoken

Lesson 3

characteristics: qualities undoubtedly: without questions or doubt launched: to throw or propel with force iteration: the action repeating admired: to find someone or something attractive and pleasant to look at vilified: to attack the reputation of a person or thing spite: angry feeling that makes someone want to hurt the others crest: the top of something trough: the lower part of something dominant: most important, powerful pre-requisite: something that must exist or happen before something else can exist or happen competence: the ability to do something successfully perfect: anything without faults, defects or mistakes executable: able to be run or work by a computer default: failure to perform an act harmful: dangerous finite: having limits or boundaries optimum: the best or highest condition of something unwanted: anything not wanted aware: having knowledge explorer: a person who travels in search of geographical or scientific information gadgets: a small, unique-use mechanical or electronic device unique: anything which different from the other limitless: having no limits or restrictions contribution: the act of collection denoted: to indicate precisely: very accurate and exact width: the measurement of something from side to side.

Lesson 4

stroke: an act of hitting or striking someone or something visible: anything that can be seen transition: the process of changing anything from one condition to another accurately: to do anything exactly or perfectly customize: to change something in order to put the requirements of a person gradient: change in the value of a quantity(temperature, or pressure) with change in a given quantity strength: the quality of being strong allied: connected, joined or unite mesh: material made of a network of wire or thread instantly: at once plethora: a large or excessive amount of something source: anything or place from which something comes, arises, or is obtained

Lesson 5

repair: to fix the damaged or to renew the old thing permission: to allow remote: anything situated at some distance representation: the action of speaking and acting century: a time of 100 years facility: any building or place designed for a specific use servers: a computer program that provides services to other computer programs generators: something that produces something usually machines assurance: a positive statement that give confidence or a promise

instantly: at once

backup: help or support redundancy: the state of being not or no longer needed or useful instant: anything which is happening or coming immediately or at once entire: complete or whole consequences: a result or effect of an action migration: move from one place to another consequently: as a result paraphernalia: the equipment or apparatus needed for a particular activity associated: connected with something else benefits: an advantage or profit gained from something or a gift particular: specific conversely: opposite in direction extensive: covering or affecting a large area publishers: a person or company that prepares and issues books, journals, or other works for sale intervals: a space between things or a distance updates: to bring something by adding new information adopted: take up or start to use issue: a point or matter of discussion or debate experts: a person who has special skill or knowledge in some particular field upfront: something that was done before majority: the greater part resources: a support or aid that can be needed for specific activity stringent: something that is strict and must be followed or listened to exactly magnitude: the great size hurdles: a barrier or difficulties feasible: anything that is possible to do easily implications: something that is suggested, or happen installment: a loan that is repaid by the borrower in regular mundane: something that is dull or lack of interest overcharging: charge someone too high scenario: a series of events that is to occur adventure: a bold, risky and adventurous activity or trip unfortunately: suffering from bad luck poisonous: a substance that is capable of causing death or illness if taken into the body ambulance: a vehicle specially equipped for taking sick or injured people to and from the hospital, especially in emergencies misty: anything that is full of or covered with something profiting: obtain an advantage or benefit

Lesson 6

literate: anyone who have knowledge reasonable: solution to the problem or anything that is sensible quickly: very fast academic: relating to a college, school, or other educational institution depicting: show or represent anything by a drawing, painting, or other art form swatch: a sample of cloth or other material corrections: to correct the mistakes and faults appreciably: anything which is possible to estimate or measure impressive: having the ability to impress the mind palette: a range of colors acquires: learn or develop a skill, habit, or quality convince: cause to believe in the truth of something objective: something that you plan to do or achieve audience: the group of people together in one place to watch or listen to a play scheme: a plan or program of action

Lesson 7

Lesson 8

facts: something known to exist or to have happened break: separate instance: an occurrence of something, or a specific situation, happening or event enlarge: very big flush: become red and hot as the result of illness or strong emotion repeatedly: again and again downloaded: to transfer data from one computer system to another reducing: becoming half overlapping: to lie over and cover part beneath: below or in a lower place reflection: the act of giving back or showing an image height: the distance from the base of something to the top or a vertical distance of something opaque: not allowing light to pass through or not able to be seen through disappear: not visible or cannot be seen

Lesson 9

sick: to feel ill, or not well virus: an extremely small living thing that causes a disease dangerous: anything that is risky or unsafe intention: an idea or plan to do a specific thing replicate: to reproduce or make an exact copy spreads: open out something so as to extend its surface area, width or length infected: any person or organism who is affected with a disease-causing organism misuse: use something in the wrong way or for the wrong purpose malicious: having or showing a desire to cause harm to someone harm: an injury, or dangerous or something wrong categories: types, divisions or classes of something deception: the act of lying to or tricking someone destructive: anything causing great harm or damage erratically: having no fixed or regular course passive: not reacting to something that would generally cause a response corrupt: dishonest frequently: regularly or many times anti-virus: anything such as medicine designed to detect and destroy viruses detect: discover or identify the presence or existence of something hackers: a person who illegally gains access to computer system and is unskilled website: a connected group of pages on the World Wide Web regarded as a single body rare: something that is present in limited quantity or few exceedingly: to a very large degree or extremely search engine: a computer program that is used to look for information on the Internet internet: a global network connecting millions of computers chronological: arranged in the order that things happened or came to be by using time as a measurement google: search for information about someone or something on the Internet using the search engine Google instant: happening or coming immediately or at once update: make something more modern by adding new information or making corrections arrives: reach a place at the end of a journey immediacy: quality of being immediate endurance: the ability to keep doing something difficult, unpleasant, or painful for a long time interacting: to come together and have an effect on each other innovative: introduce something new or different engaged: busy interaction: the act of talking or doing things with other people or the action or influence of things blogs: a Web site on which someone writes about personal opinions category: divisions or classes courier: a messenger who transports goods, documents and other important thing, in particular way convenience: anything that is suitable or comfortable comparison: the act of finding out the differences and similarities between two or more people or things communities: a group of people living in the same place or having a particular characteristic: quality, or property exchanging: give something and receive something of the same kind in return unique: exist as the only one or single, having no like facilities: anything or any equipment necessary for doing something assign: to give or allot something to someone modify: make some changes to something to improve it more concerned: having an interest or involvement in something collaborative: to work together comforts: a pleasant feeling of being relaxed and free from pain encyclopedia: a book or set of books giving information on many subjects delivery: the act of taking something to a person or place platform: a floor or stage used by public speakers or performers so that they can be seen by their audience discovery: the act of finding or learning something for the first time stranger: any person you do not know, or anyone unknown advice: a guidance to do any particular thing disguise: to give a new appearance to a person or thing restrictions: limitation brainstorming: to produce an idea or way of solving a problem by group discussions

Lesson 10

Lesson 11

Lesson 12

significant: something that is important or having a particular meaning regarded: consider or think of (someone or something) in a specific way automobile: any road vehicle having four wheels, that works on an internal combustion engine or electric motor and able to carry a small number of people journey: traveling from one place to another progress move: something or someone who creates the problems and difficulties accidents: an unplanned and unexpected event which occurs suddenly and causes injury, harm modified: made some changes to something to improve it more reduction: the act of making something smaller or lesser in size or number equipped: to prepared with proper tools milestone: an event marking a significant change in development assistance: the action of helping someone with a job or task autonomous: having the freedom to do anything collisions: an act in which two or more bodies exert forces on each other pollution: the action of making land, water, and air dirty and not safe to use satellite: something small or less powerful that moves around something bigger fuel: material such as coal, gas, or oil that is needed for power to move any machine stressful: feel worried and nervous or anyone in tension disabled: anyone or anything not able to do a particular task mobility: the ability to move freely and easily sophisticated: anything that is highly complicated or developed route: specific a way to get from one place to another place destination: anyone going to a place that is known for a particular purpose terminates: coming to an end or capable of ending obstacles: something that gets in the way or that slows or stops the movement of anything pedestrians: a person walking along a road feasible: anything that is possible to do very easily ultimate: something that is the best of its kind or something that is final, last or maximum rapid: happening in a short time or very quickly